MEDIA BLITZ

It started with an article in the "Ericksson Tribune," a publication that encompasses the Riderwood retirement community where a number of residents have been contributing to our 6 year old "Coupons for the Military" program. A couple of months later we got a call from the Washington Post asking for an interview for an article they planned to run in the "Metro" section. Three weeks later we were FRONT PAGE news!

The article was posted on the MSNBC web site that day and, subsequent ly, on NBC Nightly News, and "You Tube," as well as on FOX-TV, WRC-TV, WTOP-TV the Pentagon Channel, University of Maryland Channel and WTOP radio. Newspapers and TV channels across the country also carried articles and TV reports. As a result, we've been flooded with mail (and coupons) from across the country and even Iraq! We also received a thank you note from Secretary of the Army, General Pete Geren, This outpouring of tangible concern from so many places has been heartwarming and shows that, whatever we think about the war, concern and support for our military is alive and well everywhere.

If you missed the hullabaloo you can see the videos and read the Washington Post article by logging on to the web site at: alamd.org and clicking on "coupons for the military." That will send you to a page of information that includes links to all the media sites. The "Coupon Grannies" meet upstairs at the Post on Tuesdays at 10:30 a.m. and would love to have your help in dealing with the unprecedented volume of coupons all this attention has generated.

HOT TIME IN THE POST

The Chili Cook-Off featured 10 entries of really outstanding chili giving the judges a difficult choice to make. Top choice of the day was the pot submitted by Peggy Dutton followed by, Louise Leuders (2nd) and Sam Hofberg (3rd). Honorable Mention (and a distinctive bottle of Gould wine) went to Jeannie Wines, Sheila Sparks and George Hughes. Rounding out the field, with their tasty submissions were Veronica Hughes, Amanda Osterfield, Renee Buss, and Diane Patty. Many thanks go to these superlative cooks, Sam Hofberg for donation of chili which topped a huge number of Chili Dogs, Ronnie Gould for his donation of DJ services as well as his coveted bottles of wine prizes. We'd also like to thank the "tasters" who patronized the event and the judges for their services for the day. We've already had cooks signing up for next year so polish off your best recipes, whet your appetites, put on your dancing shoes and get ready for a bigger and better time next year!

P.S.: On a personal note, I'd like to thank everyone who was involved in putting on and patronizing this event which was given in support of my candidacy for Department President. Your support is very much appreciated. Rusty
